Property Description

Set in a truly special location at the meeting point of the River Stour and River Orwell, Barrelmans Point is a distinctive new development on the historic Shotley Peninsula. Surrounded by breathtaking estuarine landscapes and miles of protected countryside, this is a place where natural beauty and maritime legacy come together to create a remarkable setting for modern coastal living.

Once the site of the renowned HMS Ganges Naval Training Base, Barrelmans Point is now being carefully reimagined into a vibrant community of 300 thoughtfully designed new homes. At the heart of the development lies the original Parade Ground, with the iconic Grade II listed ceremonial mast standing tall - a proud reminder of the site's naval heritage. Historic buildings like Nelson Hall are being sensitively restored to provide a variety of on-site amenities including a convenience store, café, gym, library, private screening room, and co-working space.

For those who love the outdoors, the Shotley Peninsula offers a rich variety of coastal paths, countryside trails, and cycle routes that connect you to nearby villages such as Chelmondiston and Holbrook. Whether you're exploring nature, sailing from Shotley Marina, or simply soaking in the panoramic views, every season brings a new perspective.

Barrelmans Point offers more than just homes - it offers a lifestyle rooted in history, shaped by nature, and designed for modern living.
