TRING • HERTFORDSHIRE

An exclusive development of just seven detached, high quality family homes in a cul-de-sac location

Harvieston Close

Harvieston Close presents the opportunity to own a beautiful, brand-new 5 bedroom detached family home, each with home office, set in a delightful tree-lined setting off the Aylesbury Road, just half a mile from Tring's characterful town centre.

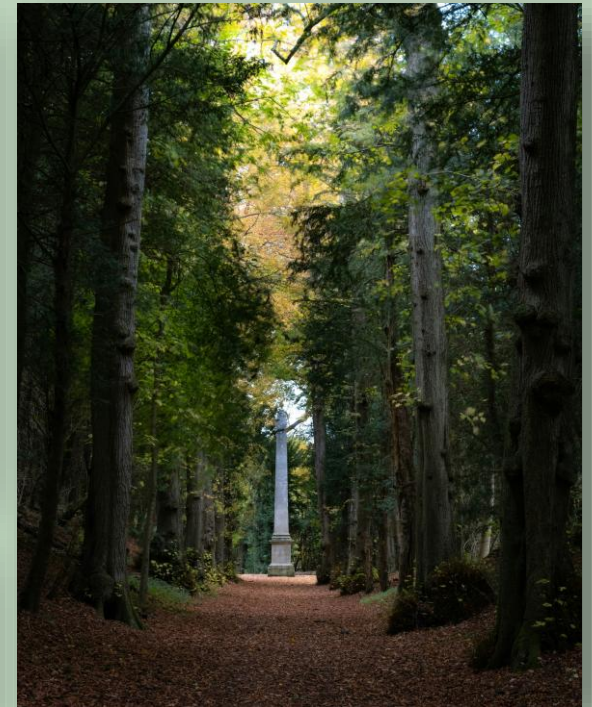

Designed and built by W.E. Black and reflecting the architectural heritage of Tring, these high-specification, high-quality homes promise comfortable, flexible living in the best of contemporary style.

An enviable destination

Celebrating over 700 years as a market town, Tring has become a destination of choice for those seeking life in a location with historic character and a close community spirit.

The High Street plays host to a selection of independent retailers, coffee shops and restaurants, in addition to a market every Friday and farmers' market on alternate Saturdays. For weekly shopping there's an M&S Simply Food and a Tesco on the outskirts of town.

Green space is key to the appeal of Tring, with stunning surrounding countryside complemented by Tring Park. Unlike other members of his aristocratic family, Lionel Walter Rothschild showed little interest in banking, making his home at Tring Park and acquiring Tring Museum as a gift from his father. Today the museum forms part of the Natural History Museum with collections of stuffed mammals, birds and reptiles, while the park's 300 acres offer plenty of scope for escapism just 10 minutes' walk from the High Street.

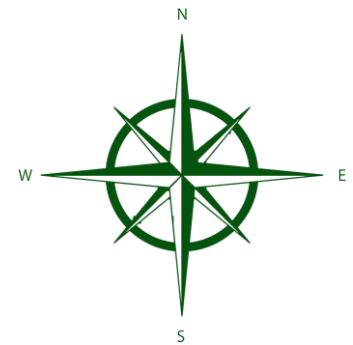

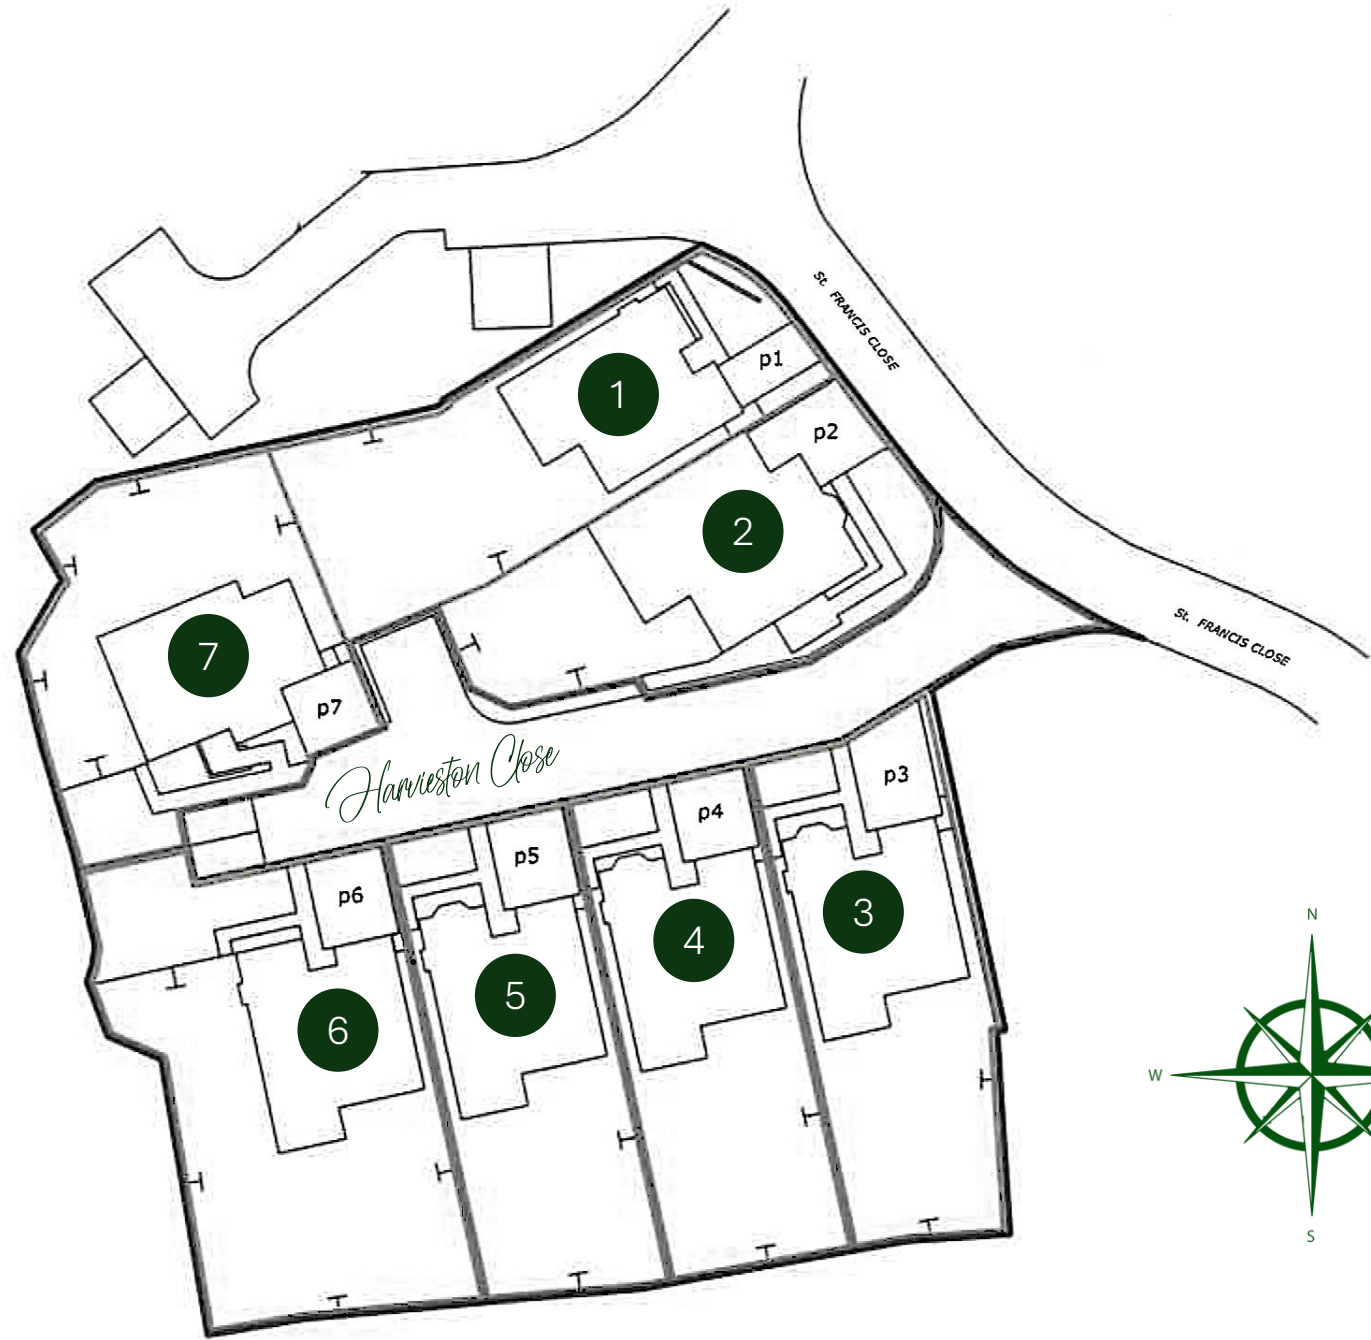

To the north of town, Tring Reservoirs attract migratory birds, while the towpath of the Grand Union Canal provides level walks for all to enjoy.

There's schooling in Tring for all age groups, with Goldfields Infant & Nursery rated 'Outstanding' by Ofsted, Tring School and 6th Form and Bishops Wood CofE Junior School are both rated 'Good'.

Tring station provides regular rail services to London Euston with typical journey times of around 40 minutes, as well as direct to Olympia, Clapham Junction and Milton Keynes. By road, Luton and Heathrow airports are 23 miles and 30 miles away respectively.

W.E. Black Ltd.

W.E. Black Ltd was founded in Uxbridge in 1919 and between the Wars built over 3,500 homes in West Middlesex, which are today still highly sought after. Billy Black died in 1961 and was succeeded by his nephew, Geoff Buttrum.

In 1973 Eric Gadsden became Managing Director and the company remains entirely family owned, with Eric's daughter, Sarah, a Chartered Surveyor, now Planning Director. The area of operation now extends across the Chilterns and the Vale of Aylesbury, as far as Oxford and Milton Keynes and specialises in high quality developments.

All W.E. Black developments feature a notably high specification as standard, including many finishes which would be charged at extra cost by national housebuilders.

With the family background in the Vale of Aylesbury dating back over 300 years the Directors enjoy the benefit of many close relationships with landowners and agents enabling the Company to acquire some of the very best locations available.

The Company also enjoys long standing relationships with many tradesmen and suppliers extending back as much as 50 years. It is the benefit of this skill and expertise which is passed to our purchasers when they move into a new W.E. Black home.
