A very interesting and unusual Grade II listed period cottage in the centre of Midhurst, previously it was used as a commercial premises.

THE PROPERTY

Church View is believed to date back to the 17th century having been built on the footings of an earlier property. There have been additions and changes over the years (including residential use), but a lot of the original features still remain within the property, including sash windows, panelled doors and exposed oak beams with good ceiling height. In all a very interesting and unusual property with a variety of uses, but there is no outside space, cellar or parking. A cavernous property with an interesting appeal to somebody who wants to be in the centre of Midhurst in a very attractive and spacious period property.

Collectively the floor space is approaching 2300 sqft, the second floor which has natural light through 3 recently renewed Velux sky lights and a sash window, this hasn't yet been converted and is currently accessible via a loft ladder however, there is scope to put in a fixed staircase. A possible opportunity for High Multiple Occupation (HMO), subject to planning or an occupier running their own business, shop, boutique or niche operation, a multitude of uses subject to the necessary consents.

Viewing is highly recommended.

OUTSIDE & PARKING

Please note there is no outside amenity space or parking (parking available in the road & permits are available for the town car park).

SITUATION

Church View is located in the historic market town of Midhurst which is located amidst the South Downs National Park. Midhurst offers a varied range of shops, restaurants, cafes and bars, as well as excellent recreational facilities and a sports leisure centre.

Midhurst and the surrounding areas are home to some of the top-performing state and private schools. The mainline station in Haslemere is 10 miles away and has a direct fast train link to London Waterloo in 55 minutes.

Located nearby is the famous Cowdray Park which has a golf course and a polo field, where they host various events. In Chichester the nearby town, is Goodwood, which holds the Goodwood Festival of Speed, Goodwood Revival and various horse racing events.
