The Property

The property offered for let is a period terrace house situated just off the Quay. Walk out of Blue Sky Cottage and you will be immediately immersed in the glory which is Cley-Next-The-Sea. The property offers a sitting room, well fitted out kitchen, rear hall. On the first floor is master bedroom over looking the National Trust marshes, bedroom two and a bathroom. Outside there is a small enclosed garden and off street parking for one car.

The Location

The village of Cley was formerly an old 18th Century port and still has many attractive brick and flint cottages alongside grander merchant's house. Today it offers an eclectic range of shops on the doorstep including the Crab Pot Bookshop, Pinkfoot gallery, Cley smokehouse, Made in Cley, and Picnic Fayre the renowned delicatessen. Village benefits from a wonderful church, two pubs and the well-known Wiveton Hall Café is within walking distance. Cley is within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and a Conservation Area, Cley has a fabulous shingle beach which is within easy walking distance, perfect for swimming or family picnics, and offers easy access to the saltmarshes and Blakeney Point with many ways of whiling away leisure hours including sailing, seal trips, cycling, golf, amazing coastal walking, and fine beaches. The Cley marshes wildlife reserve dates from 1926 and makes this one of the very best places for spectacular birdwatching.

Directions

Leave Holt via New Street which will take you into the Cley Road. After around 4 miles you will enter the village of Cley next the Sea. Proceed into the village going past the village green on your left and the Three Swallows public house on your right. At the next T junction turn right. The entrance to Beau Rivage will then be found on the left hand side opposite The George Public House.
