A unique opportunity to acquire one of Stone's last remaining grand family homes, set in approximately one acre of gardens in a discreet canal side location strolling distance to Stone Town Centre. Stonefield House is a late Georgian property, having been built around 1780, which records show was auctioned at The Crown Inn, Stone on 10th April 1838. The house has been in the same family ownership since 1928 and occupied by the current owners since 1974. Stonefield House is a wonderful old property which offers exceptionally spacious accommodation including 6 bedrooms within the main house combined with two self-contained flats to the rear, a range of domestic outbuildings and garaging for 5 cars. The house is hidden in plain sight, enjoying large private gardens with direct access to the canal tow path at the rear. The house is grade II listed, hence it retains many of its original period features and whilst it has been maintained to a good standard over the years, it does now offer the opportunity for future owners to stamp their own mark.
