Located in the peaceful Devon village of Bondleigh, located between North Tawton and Winkleigh, this unique property has a lot to offer. Originally used for over 100 years as a local school, the pupils stopped being taught here in the 1940's. Since, it's been converted to what you see today, a detached stone home with some stunning south facing views to the front. There are many beautiful rural walks locally and with Dartmoor just a stone's throw away, nature is literally on the doorstep. Bondleigh is a lovely place for nature walks, especially the Tarka Trail, dog walking and socialising for those who are interested. There are a number of great cafes and places to eat locally and convenience stores for essentials a short drive away. The local towns of Crediton (30 mins) and Okehampton (15 mins) are within reach and it's approx. 30 minutes into Exeter via the A30.

Every so often we get a church, chapel or school building to sell and they always attract a great deal of interest. The history and character they have, their position often on the edge of a village or simply the architecture and design features that make them stand out. The Old School has it all. There's oil fired central heating and double glazing, plus, subject to permissions, it maybe possible to extend to make the most of its position. The front door brings you into an inner hall with storage and then opens into the main living space. A large room with living and dining zones, although one could utilise the space in a number of ways. There's a fireplace and views to the front, over the garden to the surrounding countryside. The kitchen is separate and has a door to the garden/parking too. Standing in the kitchen, the views are really special! To complete the ground floor is a large wet-room adding to the flexibility of the home. On the first floor are three bedrooms (note that originally it was two large bedrooms and so bedrooms two and three could be opened up into one if preferred) and a family bathroom. We love the gothic arch windows that remind you of the era and use of this charming property. Outside, there's a gated driveway providing off-road parking and a detached single garage. The gardens sit predominantly to the front and side (south and west) meaning plenty of sunshine. The garden is a burst of colour in the Spring with lawns, planted raised beds and borders. There's paved pathways, seating and storage areas around the gardens and all with that wonderful view.
