With its slightly elevated position and with a southerly outlook, the properties on Alexandra Way have always appealed to buyers wanting the convenience of the town but with the rural outlook and south facing gardens. Built in the 1970's, the development gave a range of property types but this one was built differently from them all. A double width, individual plot, the property was designed as a one off, built specifically for the first owner and at the time, would have been a modern and high quality finish. This is still evident, and being the first time on the open market since new, it's sure to appeal to a range of buyers. Although tastes may have changed, it's clear to see that the quality of the build and finish have stood the test of time, with uPVC double glazing throughout. It has been very well kept, it's clean and tidy and has continued to be updated with a new boiler, complete with new hot water system and radiators throughout. Being a split-level property, from the front it looks like a bungalow but from the back, you get a real sense of its size and potential.

The layout gives 4 double bedrooms in total with the top floor having two large bedrooms and a bathroom with corner bath and separate shower in the middle, serving them both. It's worth noting on the floorplan that it may be possible to create a corridor using a part of one of the bedrooms and knock through a door into the annexe, therefore opening up the options for first floor bedrooms. On the ground floor, a huge living/dining room makes the most of the southerly views over the garden and over the rooftops to the surrounding countryside. There are doors out onto the terrace and an awning too for those summer months. The kitchen is also on the back, well fitted with a range of units. There's a useful utility room too with access to the back terrace as well as a wet room with WC. This connects through to the hallway for access to the annexe. It's also possible via the utility to access the integral double garage without going outside. To complete the ground floor are two further bedrooms and another bathroom. The annexe, positioned above the garage, has its own front door and then stairs up to the annexe itself where there's a double bedroom, shower room, a separate kitchen/breakfast room with room for a table and chairs and a lovely living room with its own balcony on the south side. The views from the annexe over the farmland are fantastic.

The property was built on a double plot (clear to see in comparison to others in the street) and this gives a wonderful rear garden. Gently sloping to the south, it's mainly laid to lawn with the paved raised terrace providing ample entertaining space and those views. There are vegetable plots, a greenhouse (with power) and plenty of room to make it into whatever you like. Access can be gained to both sides of the property and to the east is additional parking/storage (trailer storage or similar) along with off-road parking and of course, access to the garage.

This property is a true one off, due to its position in the town, the views, its size and the flexibility that comes with the annexe and 4 bedrooms.

Agents notes - The property is split level so please be aware of this before booking a viewing. Ask agent for more details.
