As soon as you enter this cottage, you realise it's something rather special, the current owners have lovingly and sympathetically updated the property to retain it's original charm and also create a modern well functioning living space. Set in the middle of the longest row of thatched cottages in the country, the history and character is everywhere you look. Morchard Bishop has a thriving community with excellent walks, a village shop and great foodie pub.

The kitchen/diner has a lovely array of light shaker style units with a feature central island. The worktops are solid wood with a Belfast sink, there's space for a fridge/freezer and dishwasher and a stable door leads from this area out to the garden, a pantry cupboard to the side provides great extra storage. The dining space has lovely inset shelves and plenty of space for a dining table.

The lounge is full of light from windows front and back, there is a solid wood floor and a stone inglenook fireplace with multi-fuel woodburning stove, perfect for cozy winter evenings.

Upstairs the master bedroom has solid wood floors and 3 recesses perfect for wardrobes and storage, the aspect is over the front garden. Also to the front is another light and bright double bedroom. The bathroom has a p-shaped white suite bath with shower over, WC and sink. There is oil fired central heating.

Outside to the front is a lovely garden with central path, this area is mostly laid to lawn with pretty flower and shrub borders. The front porch was rethatched in 2024. To the rear is a beautifully thought out ornamental garden with a feature pond and an array of plants and shrubs. There is a patio seating area and a path leads down to the rear where there is a large cob and stone outbuilding and a gate that leads out to the parking area. Access to the parking area is to the rear of the cottages with a right of way down to the privately owned parking area.

MORCHARD BISHOP is a popular village, sitting amid a network of more than 60 footpaths and bridleways including the Two Moors Way, for which it is the mid-way point. Famous for having the longest row of thatched, terraced cottages in England, Morchard is a popular village not least because of its C of E primary school (OFSTED Good), excellent pub, doctor's surgery, and community run shop. There's a thriving community scene offering a variety of events and activities ranging from the monthly produce market to sporting clubs. Nearby is Morchard Road where you can catch a train on the scenic Tarka Line to Barnstaple or Exeter. For a wider range of shops and amenities Crediton and Exeter are 7-miles and 15-miles away respectively. A regular daily bus service from the village also provides access to both these towns.

DIRECTIONS

From the A377 at Morchard Road, take the road up to the village, at the war memorial bear around to the left and the property can be found along to the right.
