Nestled in the heart of mid-Devon, the sought-after village of Shobrooke offers the very best of countryside living within easy reach of the vibrant market town of Crediton. Surrounded by rolling fields and with views of Raddon Top, Shobrooke offers beautiful walks and a welcoming local community with a busy village hall, all while remaining just a short distance from Crediton, Exeter and beyond.

At the centre of village life stands the Red Lion Inn, a traditional public house brimming with character and history. With parts of the pub dating back to the 16th Century, it's no surprise to see exposed beams and open fires which offer a warm and friendly atmosphere. But don't be deceived by it's cosy feel, the pub is huge with over 4,500 sqft in total, split into public areas, private kitchens and cellars plus a large amount of guest and owners accommodation on the first floor.

This historic pub provides all the facilities expected of a spacious free house, making it a much-loved hub for both locals and visitors alike.

On the ground floor, with three public entrances, the main bar has seating, an open fire and a pool table area. There's a separate room (used previously as an office and then the village shop) which could be further utilised. A second bar serves the restaurant with approx. 30 covers, well spaced for comfort and ease and at the rear is a large function room, ideal for hiring for private functions, village events or weekly skittles. There's outside dining and drinking space on a paved terrace to the rear as well as a huge beer garden, backing onto fields and with some simply stunning views. The car park is adjacent too with ample parking for up to 30 vehicles.

Above and beyond the bar, the property also offers excellent accommodation. There are two well-proportioned flats ideal for owners or staff, as well as three comfortable ensuite letting rooms, each thoughtfully presented to provide guests with a welcoming and relaxing stay. This blend of business and lifestyle opportunity makes the Red Lion Inn a particularly versatile prospect.

Although the pub has been run (and still is) for many years, it may also suit a range of other commercial or non commercial uses, subject to the necessary permissions. It's a big site, with a great balance of inside and outside space, offering terrific potential for a new owner.
