Property Description

An ideal choice for professional tenants and families who are working and living in Birmingham, but also those who are looking to escape London as it will be the very first stop on the new HS2 Rail.

As the UK's second city, Birmingham is one of the county's fastest-growing economies. Its current strong performance, coupled with its long-term growth potential, has helped it emerge as a prime location for investor returns.

Developer

Charles Jordan Homes have been delivering properties since 2005 and has received recognition for its quality first approach to home building, with a demonstrated track record of 12 completed projects across Birmingham and the Midlands market.

The Location:

The site is located within the Sheldon District Centre, near a Tesco Supermarket and the Three Horseshoes Public House. It is a sustainable location for new high-density residential development, close to all facilities, the residential development will play an important role in ensuring the vitality of the centres in accordance with national policy. The site also presents the opportunity to provide an appropriate link between Coventry Road and the parkland to the west.

The current site is located between Birmingham City Centre and Birmingham International along the arterial Coventry Road (A45), in Sheldon. The site overlooks the adjoining green belt strip Westley Brook. And has lovely views of Sheldon park, which is extremely rare for such a central Birmingham development. Despite being in such close proximity to the city, the area of Sheldon has an over supply of green space in relation to other local wards.
