A very deceptive 4 – 5 bedroom, 3 reception room detached family home with 2 bathrooms that has been extensively updated and enlarged within the last 4 years to offer spacious accommodation with an attractive living room, a separate study, an open plan kitchen diner family room space, a utility room, comfortable bedrooms, a family bathroom with bath and shower and a separate shower room.

Immediately from the front door the inviting reception hall draws you into this lovely home that affords light airy living space with attractive contemporary oak doors open to both the kitchen – family room and to the living room.

The living room is arranged to take advantage of a bright outlook to the front and this light aspect enhances the feeling of space. The layout of the house has been significantly enhanced by the present owners who have replanned a series of what were originally separate rooms creating a very appealing open plan layout. The flow of the house is superb with the family room – dining room opening to the kitchen area and to the patio and rear garden.

The improvements have included a new fitted kitchen with a series of integrated appliances, a matching utility room and the addition of a ground floor cloakroom shower room that is positioned next to the study so creating scope for a ground floor bedroom suite if ever needed.

The first floor living space is well balanced with 4 bedrooms including 3 double bedrooms with partial views over Nailsea and Tickenham Moor.

The family bathroom is a further feature that has, in keeping with the rest of the house, been very successfully enhanced for the present owners with a contemporary suite including both a bath and a separate shower enclosure.
