Belton In Rutland, Oakham, LE15 9JY

Positioned in open undulating countryside is this substantial, period home which has a stunning isolated location with extensive gardens and paddock land extending to approximately 5.5 acres in all with a range of outbuildings including triple garaging. The property is located approximately 1 km (0.6 mile) to the north of Belton, and is accessed via an adopted single track road leading onto a private tarmac driveway that has recently been resurfaced. The original period home is built of ironstone under a slate roof, this was subsequently enlarged some 40 years ago, with a 2 storey brick extension to the rear and a single storey wrap around extension to the side. The property retains character and period features including beams, open dressed stone walls and fireplaces. Although some modernisation is required, the property has recently undergone the refitting of 2 wet rooms, the installation of a new septic tank and replacement LPG gas boilers and tanks. The accommodation comprises, reception porch, impressive reception hall with inglenook fire place, family room with open fire, inner hallway, wet room, boot/boiler room, Kitchen breakfast room with access to cellar, dining room, further L shaped sitting room and snug/study. To the first floor there are 4 bedrooms, eave storage access, 2 bathrooms and a wet room. To the second floor there are 2 further bedrooms and access to loft space. The property is approached by a private driveway of approximately 250 metres passing through an opening in the rendered walling. Electric provision has been installed for gates. The opening opens into a courtyard area with a detached barn/former stabling to the left and the triple garage with an attached barn to the right. The grounds extend to approximately 5.5 acres in all with the gardens gently sloping down to the paddock land, giving lovely views over open countryside.
