For Sale Freehold

Hollygarth is an appealing semi-detached house constructed of stone with a pantile roof, occupying a pleasant spot in the heart of the village. The house has the advantage of a south facing elevation to the rear and fine views across open countryside, particularly from the first floor. There is a useful covered porch at the front of the property and, internally, the whole offers well-proportioned accommodation. The sitting room has fitted shelves and an open fireplace; it is open plan to the dining room which has sliding doors giving access to the courtyard garden. Double doors open to the well-equipped, fitted kitchen. Upstairs are two double bedrooms and a single bedroom all served by a modern bathroom.

- Modern three-bedroom stone cottage
- Contemporary fixtures and fittings
- Open fireplace in the sitting room
- Small gardens to front and back
- Southerly orientation and far-reaching rural views
- Conservation village
- Vacant – no forward chain

Outside

To the front of the house is a small, lawned garden bounded by a low wall. At the rear is a south facing, raised courtyard garden predominantly paved with a lawned area; the whole is fully enclosed. A garden gate gives access to the single garage with parking space in front.

Environs

Oswaldkirk lies between the North York Moors National Park to the north and the Howardian Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty to the south. Within the village is a thriving village hall and Grade II* listed church. Further amenities are found in neighbouring Ampleforth including a village store, two public houses, a primary school, medical centre and the renowned Ampleforth College. A range of facilities are also available at the nearby market town of Helmsley, some four miles away. Thirsk Railway Station runs a Grand Central service directly to London Kings Cross in about two hours as well as a TransPennine Express service to York, Leeds and Manchester Airport. A mainline railway service at York also offers a direct connection to Kings Cross. The A1M gives access to the north and south with international airports at Leeds and Manchester. Excellent schooling in the surrounding area includes local primary and secondary schools along with prep school Terrington School and top independent schools in York. 'Outstanding' Ryedale Secondary School is located in the village of Nawton Beadlam just to the east of Helmsley.
