Moorhouse Grange is a stunning five-bedroom detached country property together with a separate annex, of a remarkably high standard, in a sheltered and private garden, in a rural farming landscape setting, on the edge of a small village settlement with far reaching aspects. Set in level, mature and well managed gardens the property offers a wonderful family home. The specification and presentation of the Moorhouse Grange, which has been extended and upgraded over recent times at considerable expense, is quite exceptional, and internal inspection is highly recommended.

The kitchen design has been carefully considered and features a comprehensive suite of in frame traditional cabinets of a Shaker design; The beautifully crafted bespoke cabinets are finished in subtly contrasting Parisian Blue and French Grey Farrow and Ball paint finishes with high grade chrome furniture complemented by stunning polished 30mm depth polished quartz countertops and a wonderful jumbo slab culinary island formed from a single piece of exquisite quartz. Of the many features within the kitchen, special attention is drawn to the traditional eR7 combination Aga with induction hob companion, central control panel, four ovens and a warming cupboard. The culinary island is a real feature of the ergonomic design of the kitchen serving both as a central workstation and breakfast bar with natural lighting above created by the lantern roof – a hallmark of the David Salisbury design. Three Franke Belfast sink units (one to the island) with designer Perrin and Rowe of Mayfair, taps.

The suite of fitted and integrated appliances comprise a superb Sub-zero fridge freezer, with integrated water filter, Fisher Paykel wine cabinet, Bosch integrated dishwasher and a Samsung combination microwave oven.

Specialist cabinet work includes an integrated larder cupboard, an illuminated foldout coffee station with an unusual antique mirrored internal wall, and a bespoke cocktail cupboard, again having an antique glass backline wall. Recessed lighting with dimmer control.

This kitchen is without question one of the best we've seen in recent times with cabinets supplied by Ashley of Ireland with oak lined dovetailed in frame cabinets, this is a dream kitchen.
