SITUATION

Gummow's Shop is a hamlet in the civil parish of St Newlyn East situated on the A3058 road southeast of Kestle Mill on the outskirts of Newquay. Aptly named as before 1938, there was a blacksmith in the building now known as "The Old Smithy". The property is located conveniently for access to the town of St Austell and the City of Truro with its shops, museum, art galleries along with an extensive range of eateries and bars.

Tretrice Manor is within 2.5 miles of the property and is a historic National Trust Tudor Manor. The town and beaches of Newquay are within five miles and Newquay Airport is approximately eight miles where you can fly to a host of destinations both national and international.

DESCRIPTION

A striking modern family home in a convenient semi-rural location surrounded by Cornish countryside and farmland. The property itself is approximately 16 years old but has recently benefited from a single-story extension. As you enter the property you are welcomed by the entrance hall with frameless glass and oak staircase providing access to the partial open plan living space incorporating a sitting room with feature log burning stove, dining space and kitchen area. The kitchen has been designed around a central island and offers a range of high gloss fitted units and stonework surfaces. The property has some integrated appliances and an instant boiling water tap. To complete the ground floor accommodation is a separate utility which provides access to the integral garage, cloakroom and ground floor bedroom.

The first floor has three further double bedrooms. The master bedroom is served by an en-suite bathroom with a family bathroom catering for the other bedrooms and features a roll top bath. The property is in fantastic condition throughout and is sold with no onward chain.

OUTSIDE

The property has a block paved level drive way to the front enclosed by a timber frame gate. The south facing rear enclosed garden is laid mainly to lawn with a raised composite decking area.
