SITUATION

Polperro is rightly recognised as one of the most picturesque villages on the Cornish coastline, with its tiny fishing fleet and quaint streets with numerous restaurants, galleries and pubs. The harbour provides a temporary haven for visiting yachts. There are numerous beaches, coves and inlets within easy access of the village. The scenery in this part of Cornwall is remarkably unspoilt and beautiful and the area is thought to be one of the most scenic stretches of the world famous South West Coast Path. The River Pol runs centrally down through the village, which is straddled by a variety of intertwined cottages and bridges. Polperro is a popular destination for visitors and has a good selection of shops and restaurants. These facilities help to create and hold a thriving and vibrant community. The popular nearby towns of East and West Looe, about 4 miles away, provide a further range of facilities including a branch railway line. The A38 is only about 20 minutes' drive to the north, connecting to Plymouth City Centre with its historic waterfront and vibrant university, large modern shopping mall, Theatre Royal and the world famous Hoe is about 45 minutes' drive away. Plymouth also provides an excellent 3 hour direct commuter service to London Paddington and a popular continental ferry port, with links to Brittany and Northern Spain.
