Offers in the Region Of £735,000

Commissioned to be built by Lord Carrington in the 1850's as a hunting lodge, this stunning period property retains plentiful amounts of its old English charm. Set on 0.24 acres along a private, gated shared tarmac driveway, this property presents the rarest of opportunity to own a piece of local history. Period features are in abundance and are complimented by sympathetic extensions and new timber and uPVC sash windows. A formal lounge and stunning wood paneled dining room give a nod to its formative heritage with a beautiful extended orangery leaning into the future but sympathetically made from wood but being double glazed. The property impresses at every turn with space and rooms for everything you need plus outbuildings offering opportunity for other uses. Huge bedrooms occupy the first floor with a luxury bathroom having jacuzzi bath and measuring now less than 18m2. The gardens as you would expect are private with manicured lawns, having tall hedgerows with immaculate pathways and patios. Tarmac driveway offers chance for multiple cars to pull up and park, with space depth for camper vans or caravans plus the double detached brick garage for the weekend sports car, we can all dream cant we!
