LOCATION

Ulverston comprises a resurging Cumbrian town which has deep cultural heritage and links to Laurel & Hardy! The busy event calendar and cultural festivals put this town on the go to list for Lake District and South Lakeland visitors.

This property offers a highly prominent takeaway kiosk in the heart of Ulverston which benefits from immediate proximity to Glaxo Smith Kline, Lightburn and Park Road Industrial Estates.

The property is stone built with frontage to Victoria Road and the busy No. 6 bus stop locations which provide service to and from Ulverston through to Barrow.

Ulverston has a Ward population of 11,5701 and the newly proposed Ulverston LAMP will bring a projected 1,000 additional advanced manufacturing jobs into the town once the scheme is developed.

The town's festival season is well underway, 10 calendar events including Flag Fortnight, Ulverston's Lantern Festival, the Dickensian Markets and the town infamous Ulverston's International Music Festival mean a greater number of visitors year on year are attending!

The popular 100ft high Hoad Hill memorial monument celebrates the life of John Barrow and was erected in 1864. This is visible from the Kiosk's location.

Kiosk adjoins a pleasant park with seating and street parking freely available on Kings Road and Victoria Road respectively.
