The Property

A most interesting and exciting opportunity to create a characterful family home. Planning consent was granted on the 17/10/2024 under application no. PA24/05261, for conversion of a stone barn into a single dwellinghouse with associated private amenity space and parking.

The proposed plans provide for an entrance at first floor level opening into a magnificent 16m x 5.4m open plan living room and kitchen. This would have potential for an exposed roof structure feature, whilst the permission allows for a 7m x 5.4m mezzanine floor, having roof windows to take full advantage of the views. A turning staircase descends to the ground floor where there will be three double bedrooms, the master with en-suite, and a family bathroom. A notable feature will be the many windows within the property, creating bright accommodation and taking full advantage of the lovely views over miles of unspoilt Cornish countryside.

This fascinating old barn forms part of the old manor farm, which lies to one side of the property, with some tantalising glimpses of the manor house itself. To the other side it abuts the farmland, contributing to making this such a truly special setting.

Location

Although enjoying such wonderful rural privacy, the setting is by no means isolated. Whilst tucked away down quiet lanes, the 70 mile long Atlantic highway, running from Newquay to Barnstable, is just 3 miles away, meaning this is an ideal base for quick and easy access to some of north Cornwall's most iconic beaches and villages, many of which have rich history such as Tintagel, Boscastle, Port Isaac, Wadebridge and Bude. Those who enjoy walking will adore the area for the Camel Trail, Bodmin Moor and St Nectar's Glen.
