Providing four bedrooms, the well proportioned residence boasts oil fired central heating and double glazing. With many character features from beamed ceilings to an impressive feature fireplace housing a wood burner, the property has been sympathetically enhanced by the current owners and enjoys an outlook to open countryside.

A real feature of World's End Cottage is the fantastic outside space which provides a good sized, relatively level meadow which would seem ideal for family sports, entertaining and a good excuse for a ride-on lawn mower. There are hard landscaped patio and decked areas which provide many locations to enjoy al fresco dining with the focal point being the built-in outdoor barbecue. For budding horticulturists, there are well established plants and shrubs, a polytunnel, greenhouse and a flourishing vegetable patch.

In brief, the accommodation comprises an entrance area, kitchen, W.C., lounge/diner and, completing the ground floor a second reception. On the first floor is a bathroom and four bedrooms.

To the outside of the property is a garage/workshop which has power and may provide the opportunity for additional accommodation subject to any necessary planning and consents.

The rural hamlet of Releath is situated approximately four and a half miles from the Cornish market town of Helston. Helston itself is a bustling market town that stands as a gateway to The Lizard Peninsula which is designated as an area of outstanding natural beauty with many beautiful beaches, coves and cliff top walks.
