Situated in the sought after 'Breageside' area of the Cornish fishing village of Porthleven, is this well proportioned, beautifully presented four bedroom end of terrace house. The residence, which benefits from oil fired central heating and double glazing, boasts great charm and character and enjoys views over the village, the Bickford Smith clock tower, the beach, rugged Cornish coastline and out to sea. Currently run as a successful holiday let, the property is arranged into reverse level to take full advantage of the fine outlook.

In brief the accommodation comprises a hall, utility room, w.c., inner hall, kitchen, dining room and completing the ground floor two bedrooms. On the first floor is a fabulous lounge, bathroom and two bedrooms, one of which is situated above the utility rooms.

The outside space is a real feature of the property with a beautifully maintained rear garden which is of good size and mainly laid to lawn. There are patio areas with the top patio enjoying far reaching sea and coastal views.

The vendor has provided us with the following link to their own webcam which shows the fantastic views and has been used by the BBC, Sky and ITV news. This link can be easily found online or provided upon request.

Porthleven is a vibrant, picturesque fishing village and mainland Britain's most southerly port. The village is renowned for its many highly regarded restaurants, long beach, surfing, rugged coastline and clifftop walks. Community groups are thriving within the village with sports' clubs and a prize-winning brass band which can be heard echoing around the harbour on many a summer's Sunday evening.
