Inside

An entrance porch with oak flooring opens into a spacious reception hall with further oak flooring, personnel door into the attached double garage and a cloakroom/wc. Leading off the reception hall there is a snug and a 20'0" (6.10m) long split level living room with a wood burning stove, double doors opening out into the garden and steps up into a formal dining room with further double doors out into the garden.

The 17'4" (5.28m) long dining kitchen presents a buyer with an opportunity to update, replace and restyle the existing units which currently feature base and wall storage cupboards, timber worktops, integrated gas hob and an eye-level double oven and grill, complemented by a useful utility room leading off.

The surprisingly spacious 25'10" (7.87m) long first floor landing leads off into a principal bedroom with fitted wardrobes, rural views and an en-suite bathroom with the original 1990's 4 piece champagne coloured sanitary ware, 3 further bedrooms and a shower room.

Other internal features of note include a gas fired central heating system and a mix of both timber sealed unit and replacement upvc double glazing.

Outside

The front garden is mainly laid to lawn and a block paved driveway provides parking and access into an attached double garage with power, light and an up and over door.

The side and rear gardens are mainly laid to lawn with maturing shrub borders, a paved seating area and a timber built garden store.
