This magnificent 17th century six bedroom detached house is steeped in history and character. As a Grade II listed property, it boasts an impressive heritage, with origins tracing back to the 15th century. This home was once the residence of the renowned Pre-Raphaelite painter Arthur Hughes, celebrated for his evocative works such as "April Love," which now graces the Tate Gallery, along with other masterpieces like "Ophelia" and "Home from Sea."

The property is ideally situated, providing easy access to local amenities, making it perfect for families or those seeking to be closer to London. Additional benefits include parking for multiple cars, enclosed rear garden and walking distance to train station and local amenities.
