The cottage believed to be constructed around the 1850's has been extended and lovingly restored by the present vendor to provide a flexible and inviting living space full of the character features that you would align in a Cotswold stone cottage of this age. Access to Greystone is via high double gates with security entry this leads to a fully walled and enclosed environment, safe and secure for young animals or small children, benefiting from lawned gardens boasting a perfect south facing orientation and degree of seclusion. There is an extensive driveway and parking area, contained within the garden is a timber lodge/home office with power and water supply a pleasing and useful feature especially for those who work from home. The cottage itself over the years has undergone substantial refurbishment including full re-roofing and is now presented in superb condition by the present vendor. In recent years a double garage has been added to the side with the benefit of electric roller doors to both aspects and a useful hobbies space above accessed by a loft ladder.
