Internally, a large oak front door opens into a tiled entrance lobby and hallway. Set off the hall is a dual aspect sitting room with a log burner, parquet flooring and exposed beams. The magnificent dining room with an 11ft high ceiling and exposed wooden flooring is the the oldest part of the building and is the perfect entertaining room with a large Inglenook fireplace with adjacent cupboard/wine store. A ceiling height French window opens out to a private fully enclosed courtyard garden with useful store room. A metal spiral staircase in the corner of the room ascends to a beamed double bedroom with screened off storage space and a step down into an en suite shower room. Also on the ground floor, a medieval archway leads to a handy utility area and a further shower room with a Conservation skylight. The fitted kitchen has tiled flooring and an atrium with an electric skylight. It is well equipped with an induction hob, built in oven and a pantry with space for a fridge. A door from the kitchen opens to a second courtyard area with a gate on to St John's Court, and also an outdoor home office with light and power, a window and skylight. The little triangle of courtyard where there is a garden bench and plant pots is owned by No.4 and is for its exclusive use. Back inside the house stairs from the hall go up to 2 charming bedrooms with exposed beams and timbers. The dual aspect principal bedroom is a good size and enjoys fine views of St John's Church. A low archway goes through to a cupboard housing the gas boiler and a stylish refitted en suite bathroom.

Featuring a wealth of listed buildings and a weekly market, the bustling town enjoys a beautiful setting amidst Wiltshire's chalk downlands criss-crossed by ancient byways and prehistoric earthworks providing a scenic playground for walkers and cyclists.
