About the Area

Rugby

Rugby is the home of rugby football, where back in 1823 William Webb Ellis first invented the game. At one time a major centre for the railways, Rugby is probably best known for its public school, Rugby School, founded in 1567 and was the setting of Thomas Hughes semi-autobiographical masterpiece 'Tom Brown's Schooldays'. The town is also the birthplace of an aviation great, in April 1937 Sir Frank Whittle built the world's first prototype of the jet engine here. Today Rugby has an attractive town centre with a good range of shops, restaurants and bars. Rugby is surrounded by some lovely old villages. Rugby is ideally located and well-connected enough to enable you to easily explore the surrounding cities of Coventry, Leicester and Northampton.

Warwickshire

Warwickshire is a county in the West Midlands region of England. Warwickshire is famous for being the birthplace of William Shakespeare in Stratford-upon-Avon and Victorian novelist George Eliot, (born Mary Ann Evans), in Nuneaton. Warwickshire offers a mix of historic towns and large rural areas. It is a popular destination for international and domestic tourists to explore both medieval and more recent history.
