EXMOUTH – WHERE THE RIVER EXE MEETS THE

Exmouth is a thriving East Devon coastal town, situated on the UNESCO World Heritage Jurassic Coast, a 95-mile long stretch of coastline in southern England, situated within the counties of Dorset and Devon. Twinned with Dinan in France and Langerwehe in Germany, there are 2 Miles of Golden sand, dotted with Rock pools and fringed with a Promenade. Orcombe Point has the oldest rocks on this World Heritage Site which are located on the South Western point. Along the Promenade, a mixture of activities can be found including a bowling Alley with shop outlets, Exmouth Pavillions with its variety of shows, Restaurants, Watersports Centre and family activity facilities.

Exmouth's lively centre bustles with shops of all kinds, focusing on the pedestrianised Magnolia Centre, with its well known High Street names, and The Strand Gardens, where there are pubs, bistros, bars and a cinema.

Being a resort, it offers many activities including football, rugby, cricket, tennis, golf, fishing, riding and all Watersports activities.

The town has all the amenities including schools, a hospital, train station, doctors surgeries, Sports Centres and a Swimming Pool. A frequent bus service connects with surrounding villages, towns and the Cathedral City of Exeter, just 10 Miles along the A376. This in turn gives access to the M5, A30 and A303. Exeter International Airport is also within 10 Miles.
