Property Description

Situated within the rural hamlet of Crofthandy is this stunning detached family home set enjoying large private gardens. This beautiful, light filled home offers high quality and spacious accommodation throughout including a private master suite, welcoming entrance hall, superb kitchen/dining room, large dual aspect living room, study/gym, utility, guest room with ensuite, two further bedrooms and family bathroom.

Outside, a private gated driveway offers ample parking along with a double garage whilst the gardens surround the home to three sides. An Indian sandstone patio offers the perfect place for alfresco dining and entertaining along with an additional decked seating area which looks back on the home over the expansive lawn. Aside the main garden is a further lawned area which has been naturally divided to create an area currently used as an established holiday let. The high quality shepherds hut and wood fired hot tub is available by separate negotiation.

Location

Crofthandy is a rural hamlet situated on the fringe of the historic Mineral Tramway part of the National Cycle Route. Conveniently located between Cusgarne, St. Day and Chacewater, each of the nearby villages and the A30 are all readily accessible. The cathedral City of Truro is less than 7 miles and offers a comprehensive range of amenities, sporting facilities and rail link out of the county. The marine harbour town of Falmouth is less than 9 miles on the south coast and the nearest beach of Porthtowan is approximately 6 miles on the North Coast.
