An ideal home for those in search of stylish yet comfortable accommodation with an ease of maintenance, 6 Broomlands House will no doubt appeal to those lifestyle seekers, downsizers, or indeed as an enviable second home in the central Borders.

The striking mansion dates back to 1719, having undergone careful restoration to be divided into six private apartments, the category B listed building hosts this fantastic upper apartment, which itself has undergone extensive upgrades in recent months including a new handmade kitchen, bespoke shower room, cabinetry, and overhaul of décor, resulting in this effortlessly elegant home.

A welcoming reception hall fitted with new solid oak carpentry for coat and boot storage then extends to the bright accommodation; opening to a hallway connecting the living space and bedrooms, and incorporating the gently muted Farrow&Ball tones which are continuous throughout the apartment.

The lounge sits to the end of the hall, and is a sumptuous space with a fantastic dual aspect and allowing for plenty of space for both lounge and dining furniture. The solid wood shaker style kitchen blends timeless style and practicality; with an enviable array of streamlined storage and integrated appliances in no way compromising on aesthetic. The country chic finish is complemented with quartz worktops and allows for space for casual dining.

Both bedrooms are luxurious in their finish, with king-size proportions and retaining a period feel with touches such as the window shutters perfectly in keeping with the era of the former mansion. The feature bathroom is a masterclass in style in its own right; with handmade vanity unit and copper basin, complementing accessories and fittings, a large walk-in shower and on trend tiling floor to ceiling.

The grounds provide the perfect backdrop and allow residents to enjoy the outdoor space without the heavy maintenance of a large garden. The apartment also includes a private garage, parking, a cellar and shared use of the storage.
