Sitting room, dining room, kitchen, separate utility, study, snug. 5 bedrooms, 2 with ensuite and a walk through dressing room to bedroom 2, family bathroom.

Annexe bedroom, shower room and open plan kitchen dining/sitting room. The snug could be a separate sitting room to the annexe.

OUTSIDE

The attractive gardens are spacious, and the south facing rear garden is a particular feature. It is mainly laid to lawn with borders and a patio accessed from the dining room an utility room. The front garden has flower beds and shrubs with space for a table.

There is a double garage with parking for several cars.

SITUATION

Gillingham, the Leddenton of Thomas Hardy's novels, is situated in the Blackmore Vale, and is the most northerly town in Dorset. The name of the town was first mentioned in the 10th century Saxon charter and was the seat of a royal hunting lodge. This was visited by King John and the first three Henrys. The town offers services to cater for most everyday requirements with Waitrose, Asda, Lidl and Aldi supermarkets, pharmacy, bank, post office, doctors surgery, pubs, cafes and gift shops, along with the well regarded state secondary school. Gillingham also enjoys a mainline railway station serving London Waterloo (2 Hours) and the South West. The A303 giving access to the South West and London via the M3, whilst the A350 provides access to the coast.
