Designed To Endure

Stand out design is the theme the moment you first set eyes on Saxon Rise. Built on the site of former agricultural buildings and surrounded by greenbelt farm and moorland the development is sympathetic to both its immediate surroundings and previous uses. Built from traditional block work with timber cladding the development sits seamlessly in its position on the edge of Ringstone Reservoir.

The flow of the accommodation promotes a clear and simplistic design that is amplified by the amount of natural light and interchanging scenic views that can be enjoyed throughout the ground and first floors.

Internally this plot enjoys high quality fixtures and fittings throughout, including underfloor heating to the ground floor, integral 'Neff' appliances, CCTV and alarm systems along with external lighting.

This home benefits from private parking for four cars and a large garden area, ideal for entertaining, alfresco dining and taking in the stunning views.

Country Living

Set on the hills above Ripponden on the edge of Ringstone Edge Moor, Saxon Rise offers purchasers the chance to own a modern new build home within a stunning rural location with views extending out over the stunning Pennine scenery with picturesque Ringstone Reservoir right on the doorstep.

The area benefits from access to local amenities and is situated approximately 1 mile (1.6 km) east of Ripponden, 2 miles (3.2 km) south of Sowerby Bridge and 4 miles (6.4 km) south-west of Halifax town centre.

Barkisland village is in the Ryburn ward of Calderdale. Barkisland has a school, a church, a post office and a cricket club along with several public houses including The Fleece Countryside Inn.
