Property Description

Believed to date back to the 17th century, Brinsop Barn is a beautifully appointed Grade II listed barn conversion, which has been thoughtfully designed to offer a blend of contemporary living whilst retaining its period integrity. The sympathetically refurbished accommodation offers a wealth of original period features, including extensive exposed beams and wattle. It is evident that acute attention to detail has been paid to all aspects, which is most notable in the joinery materials and finishes which have been used throughout. The house boasts a beautiful staircase, extensive oak flooring, stripped internal doors and hard wood double glazing. A sweeping staircase from the ground floor leads to a galleried landing with a stunning cathedral ceiling flooded with natural light.
