Property Description

43 Ashperton Road is a charming Grade II listed semi-detached cottage, full of character and original features. The property has been recently and sympathetically renovated by the current owners with additions such as a new heating system, enhancing its appeal while still offering scope for further improvement and personalisation.

Internally, the accommodation comprises well appointed kitchen, living/dining rooms and three well-proportioned bedrooms, and a recently renovated shower room. Providing flexible living space ideal for families looking for a village lifestyle or those looking for an opportunity to expand and develop a most unique property.

Externally, the property boasts a generous wrap-around garden with recently installed fencing overlooking immediate farmland, offering a peaceful and private outdoor setting with plenty of space for entertaining or relaxing. There is ample off-road parking and a selection of outbuildings, which present excellent potential for further development-perfect for a home office, studio, or guest accommodation. An attached Scullery also offers scope for an increase to the down stairs footprint, potential for an open plan Kitchen/Diner or further reception room to suit any purchasers needs (subject to the necessary consents).

The accommodation with approximate dimensions is as follows:

Outside and Garden

Approaching the property from a shared driveway you meet a gated entrance with a generous gravelled driveway for ample off road parking.

A wrap around cottage style garden, primarily laid to lawn and well stocked with a range of mature trees and plants leads to a variety of out buildings including an old stable, Pig sty and Scullery.

Much improved by the current owners, the garden now benefits from raised vegetable patches, raised patio to the rear and Wisteria arch leading you to the front entrance. All with stunning views over neighbouring farmland.

Outbuildings

A newly constructed Workshop has been installed by the vendors with planning consent - roughly Ft by Ft - with permissions for windows to the side aspect. Fully insulated internally and benefitting from a tin roof. Power has not been connected but there is a nearby outdoor supply.

A brick built former stable split into three separate storage rooms benefitting from a boarded mezzanine level above. A generous storage space that offers scope for further development or annex potential (subject to the necessary planning consents).

Adjoining the property are three timber framed outside storage rooms with a tiled roof. The first is a former Cider Press with both the original Crush and Press still in situ.

The second is generous sized store room. The third is a Scullery with brick built bread oven and range cooker and door leading into the main house.

It is considered that some or all of these adjoining outbuildings have the potential to be converted into additional living space/kitchen dining area for the cottage (Subject to the necessary planning consents).
