Location

Hermitage House is located in the very heart of Thorpeness. The village was created in 1910 by Glencairn Stuart Ogilvie as a private holiday village to which he invited his friends and their families. Many of the holiday homes were built in the Jacobean and Tudor revival styles. A notable feature of the village is 'The House in the Clouds', which is now a holiday let. The 'Meare', or boating lake, was also created by Ogilvie and was inspired by J M Barrie's work, Peter Pan. In August, the Meare serves as the location for the Thorpeness Regatta which usually takes place around the same time as the carnival in neighbouring Aldeburgh and attracts many visitors. To the south lies the North Warren RSPB reserve. An area of wildlife and habitat conservation and nature trails run by the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds. It has Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Special Protection Area (SPA) status. Thorpeness also benefits from The Dolphin Inn, Ogilvie Pavilion and Sports Ground, Thorpeness Golf Club & Hotel, and Thorpeness Country Club with tennis courts. Thorpeness is some 6 miles south-east from Saxmundham where there are good facilities including Waitrose and Tesco supermarkets. Saxmundham also has a railway station with trains to Ipswich and some direct trains through to London's Liverpool Street station. The popular coastal town of Aldeburgh is two miles to the south and offers superb recreational facilities including sailing, golf, fishing, walking and a fantastic social scene. The town also provides a good selection of shops, restaurants, public houses and a cinema. Snape Maltings, the home of the Aldeburgh Music Festival is also close by. The county town of Ipswich lies about 24 miles to the south-west.

Description

Hermitage House is situated in a particularly pleasant location within the village. The house appears to date from the 1980s and is of brick and block construction under a tiled roof. It has UPVC windows throughout and a gas fired central heating system. It is anticipated that an incoming purchase will wish to carry out a general modernisation programme. Internally, the house offers well laid out accommodation over two floors. On the ground floor is a spacious sitting room and conservatory, a study, kitchen/dining room, utility room and cloakroom. On the first floor is a principle bedroom with en-suite shower room, two further small double bedrooms and a bathroom. Externally there is a parking and space further cars if required as well as a garage and a relatively low maintenance garden. The property is ideal as a permanent home, second home or holiday let.
