Location

The property is set along Boyton Road on the edge of the rural village of Hollesley. Hollesley benefits from a village school, pub and shop. Shingle Street is just 2.5 miles from the property. The popular Ramsholt Arms, which is set adjacent to the River Deben, is 4.5 miles. Hollesley is approximately 8 miles to the south east of the riverside town of Woodbridge, which offers a selection of shops, pubs, restaurants, a cinema and swimming pool. It also has excellent schooling. The county town of Ipswich is 16 miles. There are also some direct services from Woodbridge to London each day as well as a branch line connection at nearby Melton. The Heritage Coast lies within about 13 miles with popular centres such as Orford, Aldeburgh, Thorpeness, Walberswick and Southwold.

Description

Originally starting life as a relatively modest bungalow, 5 Boyton Road is now an impressive, well appointed and spacious four double bedroom extended chalet house with a one bedroom studio/annexe, and which occupies a wonderful rural location on the edge of the village of Hollesley.

The current vendors acquired the property in 2015 and during their tenure have extended, reconfigured and refurbished the property throughout, as well as creating a separate studio above the triple cartlodge which could also be used as annexe accommodation for family members. The gardens and grounds have also been landscaped.

In all the accommodation extends to nearly 2,500 sq. ft (232 sqm) and comprises an impressive double height reception hall with bespoke oak staircase rising to the first floor bedroom accommodation. The reception hall is sufficiently large enough to accommodate an informal seating area, and links through to the more formal sitting room at the rear. This is a stunning addition to the property with a 'cathedral style' aluminium framed glazed gable that offers direct access to the westerly facing garden at the rear.

The ground floor accommodation also includes a well fitted kitchen/dining room, with marble worksurfaces, a peninsular breakfast bar and a double hob oil-fired Aga. In addition there is the garden room, that enjoys the morning sun, and a versatile utility room with WC and shower area.

The vendors designed the ground floor accommodation with flexibility in mind. The principal bedroom measures approximately 17' x 12' and benefits from French doors that open onto the decked terrace at the rear. The bedroom also benefits from a dressing room, with fitted furniture, and an en-suite wet room. There is also a second double bedroom, or study/playroom if required, which also benefits from its own en-suite bathroom. Located between the formal sitting room and bedroom accommodation is the media room, with its range of fitted shelving - ideal for watching films or listening to music.

On the first floor there are two further double bedrooms and a shower room - although one of the bedrooms is currently used as a hobby room.

Outside is the triple bay oak framed cartlodge, which incorporates a secure store/workshop. Above this, accessed via an external staircase, is the studio. The planning permission allows for it to be used as annexe accommodation for family members if required.

The gardens and grounds extend to nearly half an acre and comprise a substantial shingled driveway to the front of the property, together with a landscaped raised garden. At the rear, the westerly facing garden enjoys the sun during the afternoon and into the evening, and overlooks open farmland. The garden has been divided into a number of different areas including the decked terrace, that can be directly accessed from the sitting room and principal bedroom, the 'Mediterranean garden' that enjoys the sun during the morning, together with a more traditional area towards the rear. The rear garden also includes a useful timber framed storage shed and an open fronted summerhouse with covered seating during the better weather. There is also a separate building containing the sauna, shower and WC.
