SITUATION

Paddock House is situated in the village of Halberton, which lies about three miles to the East of Tiverton, and three miles to the West of Junction 27 of the M5 motorway, with nearby mainline Parkway station (London Paddington in about 2 hours). Exeter airport is 30 minutes away with regular flights to London City.

The nearby market town of Tiverton offers a wider range of amenities including a modern district hospital, supermarkets and a sports centre. There are schools for all ages including the well-known Blundell's School, which offers discounts to local pupils. Also, nearby is Junction 27 of the M5, alongside which lies Tiverton Parkway Railway Station.

DESCRIPTION

Paddock House is a superb family home set within spacious grounds at the end of a shared private lane on the edge of the popular village of Halberton. The property, lovingly built by the current owners 26 years ago, has been designed to fit in with the style of a traditional Devon Long House whilst being a modern timber frame build. The owners have perfectly blended period charm with modern features and convenience. The property comprises of five double bedrooms, a spacious kitchen, three reception rooms, formal dining room, utility room, covered patio, two bathrooms and a WC.

ACCOMMODATION

The property is entered into a spacious entrance hall. Beneath the stairs, cleverly tucked away, lies under stairs storage. The heart of the home is the immaculately presented farmhouse-style kitchen, that exudes timeless charm and modern functionality.

Featuring wall and base units, and a central island the kitchen provides ample storage, whilst the white granite work surfaces, offer a clean environment, bright environment that serves as the heart of the culinary space. Integrated appliances seamlessly fit into the bespoke design, ensuring efficiency without compromising on style. A highlight of this space is the Rangemaster electric oven, complete with a hot plate and griddle. Ample space for dining within the kitchen fosters a sense of togetherness and conviviality, while the open-plan design seamlessly transitions into the family room, promoting effortless flow and connectivity between living spaces. The family room has ample space, while a wood burner, crowned by a wooden lintel, exudes warmth and charm. The room's triple aspect design floods the space with an abundance of natural light, creating an airy and inviting ambiance. Beyond its aesthetic appeal, the family room seamlessly leads to the garden room, blurring the lines between indoor and outdoor living, and inviting nature's beauty into the heart of the home. Also set off the kitchen is a utility space that can double up in usage as a pantry due to its large amount of base and wall units. There is also a sink and door leading to the rear garden.

At the opposite end of the house is the main sitting room. A central wood burner serves as the focal point of the room and French doors offering access to the garden and covered patio, where alfresco dining and outdoor gatherings await. The property also benefits from a versatile space born from the conversion of the garage. This area is glass-fronted and bathed in natural light, this multifunctional area comprises three rooms, offering limitless potential for customisation and adaptation to suit individual needs.

The first floor offers four spacious double bedrooms. The master bedroom boasts abundant natural light from three windows, along with a large walk-in wardrobe featuring fitted storage. An ensuite bathroom includes a shower, bath, WC, and wash basin. Access to bedroom four is via the snug/bedroom five. With stud walls, Paddock House provides superb adaptability within the home to customise the layout to the family's individual needs. There is a spacious family bathroom features a large double shower, WC and wash basin.

GARDENS & GROUNDS

The Paddock House, as per its name, has glorious gardens and grounds. The property is set down a shared private lane, with collective responsibility, that leads to the private driveway for Paddock House. The gravelled driveway provides space for multiple vehicles. The garden wraps around the property with a patio on the eastern side getting the best of the evening sun. The main garden is level laid lawn with mature shrubs and trees. Paving surrounds the property creating a brilliant space for entertaining and enjoying the outdoors. The land gentle slopes away from the main lawn down to the stream on the boundary. This part of the garden is a blank canvas and could be utilised as land for animals or subject to necessary consents extending the garden.
