SITUATION

The property is located in the hamlet of Tregarland Bridge above the East Looe River and 2.8 miles from the coastal town of Looe. Everyday amenities can be met in Looe with well regarded schools, many small shops, restaurants, galleries and pubs together with a bustling working fishing harbour recently featured on the Channel 4 travel documentary Devon and Cornwall. More comprehensive needs are met by the local market town of Liskeard 7.3 miles away, which has all the amenities expected from a thriving busy market town, and the waterside city centre of Plymouth is 20.5 miles away for a more varied shopping experience and attractions such as multiplex cinemas and theatres. The branch railway station of Sandplace is a short walk for the property which links Looe in one direction and Liskeard in the other and onward to Plymouth and London Paddington.

DESCRIPTION

Constructed in c.1696 of stone and cob, this charming Grade II link-detached cottage retains many of its original features and offers light and airy accommodation presented to a high standard. The garden has an abundance of shrubs and bushes with a private sunny patio. Across a quiet parish road is a double garage parking and an addition garden area.

Strictly by prior appointment with the vendor's sole appointed agents, Stags.

DIRECTIONS

Leave Looe on the A387 turning left on to the B3254. Passing Sandplace Railway station on your left, turn immediately right and follow the road until you pass over the railway line and the road bends to the right. Continue for approximately 250 meters were the property will be located on your left with parking opposite.

AGENTS NOTE

Given the nature of the property and it's tranquil location alongside the stream, naturally it does present a higher risk for surface water flooding. Previously, flooding has been caused by a blockage further upstream, however the sellers have never experienced any water coming into the property in over 20 years of ownership. For more information please contact the office.
