Rowel House, Main Street, Sedbergh, Cumbria LA10 5QL

Located in the idyllic village of Dent, Rowel House is part of the former Post Office. The building itself dates back to the late 18th century. The property is on the Main Street giving direct access to local pubs and shop as well as providing an ideal base for exploring the surrounding countryside.

To the ground floor, there is a living room which benefits from features such as exposed wooden beams and stone wall, flagstone flooring and a wood effect electric fire. These features give the space a rustic, cosy atmosphere, a theme that continues throughout the ground floor of the cottage. Most notably, a farmhouse style kitchen equipped with a double-oven, induction hob, composite sink and drainer and space for a fridge freezer. There is an adjoining dining area. Opposite the living room there is second versatile reception room which is currently being used as a games room.

There is a convenient shower room with wc on the ground floor of the property. Additionally, a utility room and cloak room providing ample space, plumbing for white good as well as storage for outdoor equipment, coats and shoes.

To the first floor the accommodation comprises of four double bedrooms and house bathroom. The main bedroom benefits from a decorative fireplace and hearth retaining the historical element of the cottage.

Externally, there is a private patio courtyard ideal for sitting out and enjoying the quiet environment.

The property has been recently renovated and it benefits from oil fired central heating and heritage double glazing.

Viewings highly recommended to appreciate this space.
