FULL DESCRIPTION

Offered with NO ONWARD CHAIN. Constructed just after the turn of the century, this end-terrace house offers a great blend of traditional and modern. Built in a period style that matches the street scene of Lindsey Street, internally, the design offers highly appealing open-plan living. A particular feature with 'wow factor', the 33' living and dining room is open to the kitchen which, in turn leads out through the conservatory to the southwest-facing garden. Upstairs there are three good bedrooms and two bath or shower rooms. With parking front and rear, this is a really practical but dynamic home that's a very reasonable walk from the cafes, shops and restaurants of Epping High Street as well as the Central Line station.

Lindsey Street is one of the town's established residential roads and leads out from the town's Memorial Green to the open countryside to the west of the town. As well as the Underground links, Epping has excellent access to the M11 and M25 network as well as many key locations.
