Currently trading as a popular AirBnB apartment, this property is being offered for sale as an ongoing investment or with vacant possession available immediately. The position, equipment and good décor throughout the apartment has been a common positive with multiple guests, with several examples of the following review online.

“Perfect all around stay. It won’t be our last. Great location, well kitted out apartment with absolutely everything you need. Even down to the finer details.”

The property itself has an open plan Lounge/Kitchen/Diner with hard wearing oak effect laminate flooring continuing from the hallway. The kitchen has a range of floor and wall mounted cupboards under a rolled edge marble effect laminate worktop with matching splashback with an integral oven and hob, recess for washing machine and free standing fridge freezer. The lounge has a large bay window providing ample natural light.

The bedroom has a light carpet and has ample storage units. To the rear is a double door unit with a Juliet balcony which provides sea glimpses towards Fistral Beach.

The bathroom has a full length side panel bath with shower over, low level WC and pedestal basin with a stainless steel towel rail. It is mainly floor to ceiling tiles and has a side aspect diffused glass window.
