The Killacourt has recently become a very popular part of Newquay town centre. It's proximity to the town centre and beaches as well as the newly design retail space and café provides an ideal location for residents or holiday guests.

Newquay Town has recently had an influx of independent Cafes, Coffee Shops and Bars that has made the town an even more popular holiday destination with a unique multicultural and inclusive feel. This, coupled with improved transport links via the A30 and Newquay Airport has really made it one of the top tourist destinations in Cornwall. As a result, as well as the flexible modern nature of working, has also led to an increased number of families moving to the area to enjoy the natural beauty of the coastline on the doorstep.

The apartment is accessed on the ground floor through the coded communal entrance door.

The open plan lounge kitchen diner is flooded with light thanks to a large bay window which enjoys views over Newquay Bay and up the North Cornish Coast. Unusual for a studio there is more than enough space for a dedicated lounge, kitchen and separate dining area. To the rear of the apartment is a large storage cupboard and the 'tucked away' open bedroom providing ample space for a large double bed. This also leads through to the generous shower room which has also been recently refurbished.
