£650,000 FREEHOLD

A beautifully presented and much improved Edwardian town house standing in a convenient position on the edge of the town centre and just a third of a mile from the seafront.

Presented in stunning order throughout, this three storey Edwardian town house was constructed in the early 1900's to a design by the acclaimed local architect R W Samson. The house sympathetically combines period features with modern day comforts such as a contemporary kitchen and bathrooms with underfloor heating. A modern two storey extension to the rear has allowed the accommodation to be imaginatively reorganised, creating a spacious utility with generous storage and cloakroom/WC and a particularly impressive kitchen/dining room and living room. This stunning room featuring three large glazed sliding doors to the rear and two lantern windows is beautifully appointed, using quality materials and with built-in appliances to include ovens, an induction hob, large fridge and separate freezer, dishwasher and wine chiller. A traditional sitting room has been retained which enjoys a front facing bay window overlooking the River Sid.

On the first floor, the large main bedroom has a bay window overlooking the river and a second double bedroom has fitted wardrobes and storage. There is a beautifully presented bathroom with separate shower cubicle, all fitted and finished to a particularly high standard. On the second floor, a generous third bedroom takes in an impressive west facing view over the river and ford and across the valley to Muttersmoor. The fourth bedroom is a spacious single room and lastly there is an impressive shower room.

The house is set back from the road with a well stocked front garden, whilst to the rear the garden has been attractively designed and landscaped to feature a secluded patio along with two useful brick built sheds. A gate provides pedestrian rear access. There is a Resident's Permit Parking scheme on Millford Road itself.

Millford Road stands within a Conservation Area on the edge of the town centre, opposite the River Sid and ford and within short walking distance of The Byes. Sidmouth's busy High Street has numerous independent shops, High Street chains and popular restaurants, all just a short walk from the house. The Regency esplanade that forms part of the Jurassic coastline is just a third of a mile away.
