Situation

Eddleston is a semi-rural village which enjoys a range of local facilities including a village hall, hotel, pub/restaurant and a café. Ideally placed for enjoying the benefits of the countryside whilst being within easy commutable distance of Edinburgh, (just 15 miles from Edinburgh City Bypass) and surrounding Border towns. Local attractions include The Great Polish Map of Scotland located within the grounds of Barony Castle Hotel and Spa, and the Meldon hills; Black Meldon, White Meldon and Dundriech for those who are keen walkers, nature enthusiasts and cyclists. A new path/cycle route has just been completed linking Eddleston with Peebles and Innerleithen, and the famous Innerleithen and Glentress mountain biking centres. The popular town of Peebles (5 miles away) offers a full range of facilities. The area is also well renowned for world-class outdoor pursuits, including salmon fishing, mountain biking, hiking, golf and horse riding. Highly ranking secondary schooling is available in Peebles for which there is a school bus.
