DESCRIPTION

Bankside offers an attractive opportunity to a range of buyers, whether they be couples, families or retirees to acquire a well proportioned and most tastefully extended 1920's detached house, which retains a number of the original features, whilst having been particularly well appointed with contemporary fittings. The current owners have considerably improved the property in more recent years. This includes extending the property substantially over two storeys, which is believed to have been completed in 2021 and provides a stunning open plan kitchen/breakfast/dining room and enjoys a beautifully fitted kitchen with quartz work surfaces and a selection of appliances. On the first floor the extension has added two bedrooms - one of which has a wall to wall range of fitted wardrobes. Further points worthy of note include a particularly generous size lounge and families will be pleased to note the provision of a utility room. The hard flooring to the ground floor has been renewed with very 'life-like' wood effect vinyl flooring. The four good size bedrooms are served by the main combined bath/shower room.

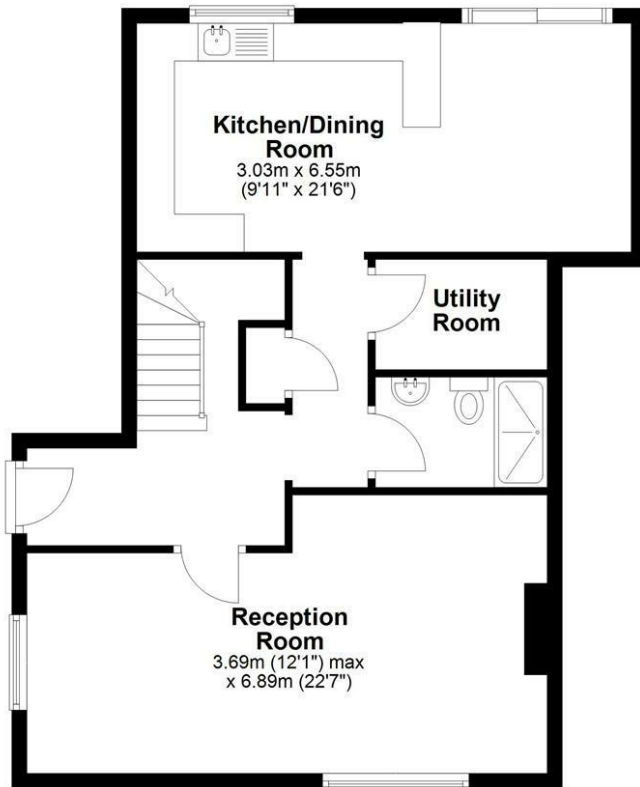

Outside the property is set on a corner plot, which is of an appealing size and includes a generous parking area with ample scope for the construction of a garage - subject to planning consent, whilst the gardens are particularly well stocked and include a greenhouse and Wendy house.
