DESCRIPTION

An historic Grade II listed detached farmhouse, documented to have been occupied by the Reddaway family in the 13th Century. The property further evolved during the 17th and 18th centuries and is of stone and cob construction beneath a part slated, part thatched roof. The present vendor has considerably renovated, updated and improved this delightful home, restoring and uncovering many original character features including superb inglenook fireplaces to the farmhouse kitchen and dining room. Throughout the property are further feature fireplaces, exposed floorboards, ceiling timbers, reveals and carved timbering. The versatile accommodation offers three reception rooms (potential 4th) and incorporates 4/5 bedrooms at present (with potential for a 6th) with further renovation required. A range of adjoining buildings flank a front courtyard area, and may have potential for conversion to further living accommodation or annexe/ancillary use subject to any necessary consents. Externally, in addition to large areas of courtyard there is an attractive rear garden area with an adjoining pasture paddock ideal for horses or general stock grazing. There is a further area across the yard which could be turned into further garden or parking if required. This is a rare opportunity to acquire a historic Grade II listed Farmhouse which has been lovingly restored with further potential and works required.
