Outside is the gym, located in what was once the detached garage, delightful easily maintained split level garden with fell views along with plenty of car parking provision on the private, gated driveway.

This is a rare and superb opportunity in this wonderful part of the English Lake District, so early viewing is highly recommended.

Location

Situated on “the right side of the valley”, Michaels Nook Cottage benefits from sunlight throughout the day, offering stunning views of the sun setting over the western fells on late summer evenings, and the added advantage of extended winter sunshine into the late afternoon. It means that you can relax, even on the dampest and gloomiest of days, and enjoy an ever-changing view - a superb panorama of fells shrouded in mist one minute and bathed in golden sunshine the next.

You can even step out of the door and hike a whole host of wonderful fells, including the dramatic Helvellyn range and the Fairfield Horseshoe, or simply stroll up to one of the many pretty Lakeland Tarns which surround this delightful village. Alternatively, you could take a gentle walk down to the lake shore or amble into the village itself, known the world over for its literary connections with William Wordsworth, but also highly valued by all lovers of the Lake District for its scenic beauty, an excellent array of national and local independent shops and of course a variety of highly regarded traditional inns, cafes and restaurants.
