Built in 1863 for the then vicar of Ambleside Canon Bell, this elegant Grade II listed building was sub-divided into ten individual apartments in 1997, which now make up Loughrigg Brow as it is today. Number 5 is a beautifully appointed first floor luxury apartment full of charm and character, and can be approached either via the impressive original staircase or the lift.

The accommodation includes a private hallway (with an intercom entrance system) and space for the storage of coats and boots, with a cloakroom to supplement the two en suite bathrooms, convenient for visiting guests.

The jewel in the crown here is surely the truly superb dual aspect living/dining room with magnificent fell and lake views from the large windows, both having wonderful wide window seats. Stopping you in your tracks they invite you to pause and admire the view. This room has a great sense of spaciousness with its high ceiling, coving and picture rail, and also features space to dine. This is a rather special room in which to relax with friends and family, with the ornate fireplace a welcome spot to gather round on cooler evenings.

Leading onto the kitchen, this is part tiled with an attractive range of wall and base units with complementary work surfaces incorporating a breakfast bar and a sink and a half with drainer and mixer tap. A wealth of integrated appliances includes a Neff double oven with gas 4 ring hob above and extractor hood over, microwave, undercounter freezer, fridge, Belling dishwasher and Grundig automatic washing machine. Also having a built-in cupboard which houses the Worcester boiler a Glow Worm boiler. This is a lovely welcoming space in which to prepare meals with ample storage for the keen cook.

The bedrooms are sumptuous!

Bedroom 1 being dual aspect with breathtaking fell views, also with window seats - perfect for enjoying a book whilst enjoying the views. The wonderful high ceiling and coving adds to the feeling of grandeur. Integrated bedroom furniture includes a dressing table and floor to ceiling wardrobe and drawer units. The en suite shower room has tiled walls and a three piece suite comprising a shower within a cubicle, wall hung wash hand basin and a WC. Making clever use of the eaves area with under eaves cupboard, also having a modern LED mirror, and a heated ladder style towel rail/radiator.

The second bedroom is also a spacious double with fitted wardrobe units and fabulous lake views. Benefitting from a dressing room area with wash basin set within a dressing table style unit. A cupboard here houses the hot water cylinder. Leading on to the en suite with panel bath with shower tap attachment, a rainfall shower with separate hand attachment, and WC. Having tiled walls and a heated ladder style towel rail/radiator for ensuring warm towels are always to hand.

The property is approached from a lovely sweeping drive via an electronic gate, and stands in beautiful communal grounds which are understood to extend to approximately ten acres of both formal and informal gardens with woodland providing a real
