When you arrive at Mole End one of the first things that you will notice is the wonderful sound of the birds singing. Park up next to one of the three log stores and make your way to the gate which will lead you to the glazed porch and front door of Mole End.

Entering the bungalow in to the welcoming hall way with traditional wood panelling and a useful storage cupboard, a good space for coats and boots to be hung after a brisk fell walk.

A pretty glazed door leads you in to the dual aspect breakfast kitchen, with traditional wall and base units, sink and drainer with mixer tap and complimentary work surfaces with space for an electric cooker and fridge freezer.

This lovely space is ideal for preparing or enjoying a hearty meal whilst admiring the colours of the picturesque garden. There is space for a breakfast table and the patio doors lead you out on to a sun terrace with wonderful fell views allowing for al fresco dining!

The rear hall takes you to the utility area, with more useful storage and space for a washing machine. There is access to the back garden from here too.

You will find a spacious and practical wet room with wash hand basin, wc and Mira electric shower.

The hall leads you to the cosy, dual aspect living room which is full of character with wood panelled ceiling, space to dine and exposed slate wall with a stylish wood burner sitting on a Lakeland slate hearth, perfect for relaxing after a long day strolling in the fells.

The bungalow has two spacious double bedrooms, bedroom one, a real delight being dual aspect boasting incredible views to Oxen Fell and Holme Fell, having fabulous built in furniture of wardrobe and dressing table plus it has an attractive exposed stone chimney fireplace and ensuite WC.

Bedroom two also has an exposed stone chimney breast with fire place, this room also benefits from fitted wardrobes, cupboards and bedside tables plus those all important fells view.

Mole End is nestled on a generous plot, with mature gardens, in full bloom with bursts of colour, there are several seating areas from which to relax and soak in the view, there is a peaceful lawned area and several log stores. A path will lead you from the back door around past the coal bunker to a side gate which takes you to the parking area, further log store and timber shed. Now, you may think that is it, but no..if you follow the stepping stones up in to the fell you will discover a magical well maintained woodland garden, which leads to "Toad Hall", a small timber summer house from which you could take a moment and listen to the birds singing in the many mature trees.

Location Oxen Fell is a peaceful yet stunning location nestled between Ambleside and Coniston, with these two popular villages only a short drive away from the many shops, cafes, restaurants and attractions.
