Taylor Engley

Hailsham Grange, Vicarage Road, Hailsham, East Sussex, BN27 1BL

Price £1,650,000 Freehold

This fine house offers spacious accommodation over three floors with a very versatile layout that is ideal for formal occasions yet also fantastically well equipped for family life. The house has been significantly improved by the present owner after a programme of extensive renovations and restoration retaining a variety of character features now incorporated into elegant, modern decor that has been fitted out by the interior designer Maranda Louise (Adam Bray, Jane Ormsby Gore), the standard of presentation is very high and can be seen throughout this sumptuous house on all floors.

EPC = E

A highlight of the house is the inviting entrance hall, which has a magnificent staircase. The reception rooms have tall sash windows and are all substantial, providing plenty of space for special occasions and they are located together to create one generous space for entertaining. The drawing room is notable for its expansive fireplace and fitted cabinetry and there is the added benefit of a separate dining room, conservatory and a snug. The kitchen is situated on the eastern elevation and has an adjoining laundry room and cloakroom. Upstairs there are nine bedrooms arranged over two floors presenting a good opportunity to use one or more as further reception rooms or home working space, if required. The principal bedroom is at the front of the house with an en-suite shower room, whilst the remaining first floor bedrooms share a family bathroom. The five bedrooms on the top floor also have the use of a family bath/shower room.

Situated in the centre of Hailsham, Hailsham Grange is a former vicarage previously used for the adjoining Grade I-listed church. The house itself is Grade II* listed and is built in the Queen Anne style, dating back to the 18th century when it was likely constructed by the Reverend Odiarne Harper.

GARDENS

The stunning gardens are a highlight of Hailsham Grange and have previously been open to the public, such is their appeal. Situated at the rear of the house they are walled and arranged in a traditional parterre style with a mix of hornbeam, yew and box hedging creating a variety of 'zones' within the garden, including parcels of lawn, deep borders, topiary and various terraces. Mature trees around the boundary make the gardens feel exceptionally private and there are lovely views over the neighbouring St. Mary's Church. The hedges part to reveal a charming summerhouse towards the rear. The formal front gardens are equally well landscaped and border a wide carriageway which provides ample private parking.
