PRICE GUIDE £400,000 - £425,000 Bumble Bee Hall comprises a 19th Century three bedroomed cottage standing in 1040 sq.m (0.257 acre) or thereabouts within the Hawksworth Conservation Area. There is a range of domestic outbuildings and the property stands in established gardens. Central heating is oil fired with panelled radiators. Purpose made double glazed windows in character with the property have been installed in recent years. The property, attached to Beech Cottage, has a south facing aspect and views within the Conservation Area.

The accommodation provides on the ground floor reception hall, sitting room with fireplace, spacious dining kitchen, inner lobby with staircase and downstairs bathroom. The first floor provides three bedrooms (the middle bedroom non-private). The property is subject to a flying freehold with part of a bedroom to Beech Cottage located over the ground floor bathroom of Bumble Bee Hall.

Externally there is a range of brick and pantile outbuildings comprising coal house, garden store, workshop, wash house and open bay log store. There is a fascinating old manual water pump in the front yard. The garden, containing trees and shrubs, is well capable of landscaping and reinstatement to it's former glory.

Hawksworth is a Nottinghamshire Conservation village lying 8 miles south of Newark, close to the villages of Flintham, Sibthorpe, Thoroton, Scarrington and Screveton. The larger settlement of Bingham is within 4 miles where there are facilities including shops and schools. The village is approached by country lanes with easy access to the A46 and A52 trunk roads. Nottingham approximately 12 miles. A focal point of the village is St Mary and All Saints Church, the brick tower noted as a pleasant oddity circa 1700 in the Gothic tradition. The fine stone Manor House stands close to the property with many interesting and notable houses in the vicinity.

The property is constructed with brick elevations under a pantiled roof. The following accommodation is provided:
